

article from Woodshop for August Tribune

From your Woodshop reporter John Ames. I guess I'm not a very good reporter. It ends up that the last 2 articles I wrote, one for June T. E. Tribune and one for July T. E. Tribune (they were pretty much the same except for a sentence or two) were opinionated and constituted ranting and raving. Rants and raves in the T. E. Tribune were disallowed by the board in 2007. I just didn't know I was so controversial. I thought of myself as a mild mannered Clark Kent, who knew? I thought I was telling the truth, I did like a good TV newspaper reporter and got the info from separate sources but----- I have the message Martha Brower left on my phone if any one wants to hear it.

But let's get back to Woodshop news and leave all of the name calling behind us (Gee—I hope that isn't considered ranting and raving)

We had a short meeting in June.

- A) And we voted to buy ourselves our own water cooler. The old water cooler broke and the didn't have the money to replace it.
- B) The unpublished articles were read to the group so that they could answer the publics questions about why they weren't published.
- C) I took 3 donuts over to the post office as I always do on meeting day and that was about it.

I am not going to waste a perfectly good history item in case this article won't be published either.

Thank you for the cans and aluminum, and keep them coming.

This is your Woodshop reporter signing off and hoping I can become a better reporter in the future. Did you know that the water is really cold from a new fountain.
