

Well, you are reading a report from a happy Woodshop reporter. The last of the summer doldrums, looking forward to next month when there will be some dynamic news to chew over and dispense about one of the most forward moving groups in T.E.

I have finally figured out all of this ranting and raving thing is all about. Last months article couldn't have been more raving unless it contained fireworks. I guess it depends upon who the subject is. Who but an ogre could fault the acts of the selfless contributions of the Woodshop toymakers. Putting in effort and energy above and beyond the call of duty, not to mention the time. to do things for disadvantaged children. Talk about hero's in today's world.

And who could fault the altruism of the people of TE that take the time and effort to recycle what the majority throw in the trash with never a care to how our ecology is damaged by there uncaring acts. To those who care how the planet survives--salute.

Well, now on to the news for the meeting and beyond.

This wasn't the fastest meeting on record---that went to last months meeting.

The focal point of the meeting was getting a picture of "Woody" , the Southeastern Guide Dog that we got to name because of our contribution to the auction fundraiser that T.E. presented. Woody was born on May 17, 2010 and is being raised by Erika Watson. We also got a very nice letter from Ericka describing his first several weeks. The picture and letter can be seen in the Woodshop window. In the folder from the Guide Dogs people is a thank you note.

Once again time is the contributing factor for there not being any history items. There must be a famous quote somewhere about the presses rolling without you if---- but I don't know it. All I know for sure is that this your Woodshop reporter getting the article in on time----John Ames
