

- Alachua:

March 2010: An appellate court has ruled that the city of Alachua violated the Public Records and Open Meetings Laws when it refused to allow two citizens to review a canvassing board's minutes before the City Commission approved them